Alvin Edwards A Dedicated Contributor to YMWIC

At YMWIC, we are fortunate to have many dedicated parents who go above and beyond to support our Scholars and the mission of our organization. One such individual is Alvin Edwards, father of Alvena Edwards, who has been an invaluable part of our community throughout the programming year.

For a significant portion of the year, Mr. Edwards took on the responsibility of providing local carpooling for Scholars, ensuring they had reliable transportation to and from activities. His commitment to making sure our young learners arrived safely and on time was a tremendous help to both Scholars and their families.

In addition to his transportation efforts, Mr. Edwards also made a meaningful contribution to our end-of-year Academic Program Celebration by preparing and sharing dishes and adding a personal and thoughtful touch to the event. His involvement added to the festive atmosphere, and his culinary skills were enjoyed by all.

Furthermore, Mr. Edwards has played a critical role in keeping us organized by volunteering to take minutes during our workshops, ensuring key discussions and decisions are documented for future reference. His attention to detail and willingness to assist with administrative tasks have been invaluable to the smooth operation of our programs.

As we look ahead to the new year, we are excited to continue working with Alvin Edwards. His selflessness and dedication have made a lasting impact on our community, and we know he will remain an integral part of YMWIC's success moving forward. Thank you, Mr. Edwards, for your valued support.
