Scholar Spotlight

Jasmin Murungi Coatesville Chapter

Meet Jasmin Murungi, a 10th grade student at Coatesville Area High School. An enthusiastic and dedicated Scholar, her favorite subjects are African American History and Personal Finance. Because of her commitment to academic excellence, she has consistently been an Honor Roll student. An accomplished athlete, she plays soccer in the fall and runs track during winter and spring. In addition, she is a member of the Black Student Union.

We asked Jasmin why she joined YMWIC and her response was, “I want to be involved in YMWIC because it seemed like a good program when they came to visit my school. I feel I can benefit from their programming, because it will help me widen my horizons when it comes to college and career choices.” She’s committed to and diligently attends workshops.

Currently, Jasmin's top college choices are Howard University and Clemson University. She would like to pursue a career in History or Psychology to become a Professional Athlete or a Therapist. She would also like to play college sports. In her free time, Jasmin enjoys swimming, playing with friends, reading, and arts and crafts.

Welcome to YMWIC, Jasmin. Continue working hard and taking advantage of all the opportunities we provide.
