Loretta Hoguescott Norristown Eisenhower Chapter

Loretta Hoguescott is grandmother to Norristown Eisenhower Chapter 3rd grade Scholar Londyn Chambers who, she says, “Loves ANYTHING related to STEM.” The family joined YMWIC this Program Year. Loretta has observed that Londyn loves to learn new things and meet new people, adding, “My granddaughter absolutely loves doing the science experiments.” She adds, “We just enjoy coming to the Project Support sessions where Londyn can work on her homework and attend the workshops. I am able to provide assistance to my granddaughter and other Scholars in the Chapter. I love when she lights up about coming to the Foundation’s Programs and Events. That touches my heart!”

I especially like the outreach aspect of the YMWIC Program. At Christmas time, the Scholars went to a nursing home for a Community Service Event. We helped the residents to decorate for the holidays by straightening up wreaths and placing them on the residents’ doors. The shared joy was evident when the children interacted with the residents.

I have shared my excitement about this awesome program with my friends and family. I let them know it is challenging for Londyn, but it’s worth it. Where can you go for no cost where others invested in your children? Nowhere but YMWIC.

YMWIC is the right place at the right time for our family.
