Community Service

Chester Upland Chapter

On April 26th, Chester Upland Scholars had the privilege of helping with their community's hunger needs by taking part in Ruth Bennett Community Farm's "Earth Day of Service." Scholars arrived at the community garden in the morning and worked their way into the early afternoon helping Ruth Bennett Community Farm staff prepare the garden for a new season of growth. Some Scholars assisted in building garden beds while others tended to already established beds with weeding and fertilizing. Their efforts will help bring fresh fruit and vegetables to their community for the entire growing season this year.

Furness Chapter

On April 14th, the first day of Spring Break, our Furness Chapter Scholars chose to give back to their community by volunteering at Guerin Recreation Center. Instead of sleeping in, they showed up ready to work—cleaning up the gym, picking up and discarding trash around the playground, and tidying the surrounding park.

The caretaker at Guerin Rec was impressed with their positive attitudes and dedication, calling them “great kids” and expressing how uplifting it was to see young people putting positivity into the community. As a thank you for their hard work, he even let the Scholars shoot around in the gym once the cleanup was complete!

We’re proud of our Furness Scholars for choosing service and modeling a powerful example of leadership and community pride!

West Chester Chapter

On April 1, West Chester Scholars supported the Chester County Food Bank with their Color Some Kindness Grocery Boxes. As the central hunger relief organization in Chester County, the Chester County Food Bank is a vital pillar of the community; and their Color Some Kindness Grocery Boxes are one way the organization assists their population.

These pre-packaged food boxes are delivered directly to high-need populations of children, elderly, and families. The Color Some Kindness Program works directly with Chester County seniors who receive monthly grocery boxes through the organization. West Chester Scholars decorated the grocery boxes with drawings and positivity to spread goodwill and joy to the recipients of the food.
