

Scholar Spotlight

Inza Soumaro William Penn Chapter

William Penn Chapter: Inza Soumaro is in the 8th grade at Penn Wood Middle School. Inza learned of YMWIC after his mother attended an Open House and registered him. He most enjoys doing science experiments in the workshops. Inza expects that he will be ahead of other students when he attends college as a result of participating in YMWIC. He wants to be an engineer who creates and constructs buildings.

Inza's hobbies are playing online video games with his friends, hanging out with them, and playing basketball and football. He recommends that his peers join YMWIC saying, "This program will help boost your knowledge in whatever your interests are. It'll also help you to be better prepared than other students in college, especially by enhancing and developing skillsets in conducting research, preparing and making presentations, public speaking and good study habits."

We couldn't agree more, Inza!