

Brittany Thompson

My vision as an instructional leader is to empower my staff and scholars to reach their highest potential through collaboration, feedback, data analysis, and accountability. My aim is to build capacity in all educators.

EDUCATION

Southern Methodist University
Master of Urban School Leadership
Cumulative GPA: 3.78

Dallas, Texas
May 2014 – May 2016

University of Tennessee
Bachelor of Psychology
Cumulative GPA: 3.93

Knoxville, Tennessee
August 2008 – May 2012

EXPERIENCE

Assistant Principal
Marsh Middle School

July 2019–Present
Dallas, Texas

- Manage and lead ELAR and SPED department incorporating AIM power meetings to increase student achievement
- Create, progress monitor and adjust student culture systems resulting in an average reduction of 30 students in hallways during transition periods from the beginning of the year
- Build capacity in teachers, instructional coaches, and Instructional Lead Teachers, and staff members with real-time feedback and coaching

Assistant Principal
John Q Adams Elementary

July 2017- July 2019
Dallas, Texas

- Plan and facilitate weekly looking back meetings, looking forward PLCs, and weekly professional development
- Create, facilitate, and develop a school wide reading approach and instructional calendars in response to data
- Build capacity in teachers, instructional coaches and staff members resulting in a three-letter grade increase from a baseline of F, to a C and an 8-point increase in domain 2B.

Literacy Campus Instructional Coach
John Q Adams Elementary

July 2015- July 2017
Dallas, Texas

- Facilitate data analysis meetings, collaborative planning meetings, professional development, and team meetings for all grade levels
- Conduct observation and feedback coaching cycles using “see it, name it, do it” model, including model lessons and co-teaching
- Create and deliver ‘Living the Learning’ professional development for whole staff and new teachers

ADDITIONAL

- Teaching Trust Aspiring Leaders Program Cohort 4, 2014 and Teams Program, 2017
- Teach for America, DFW, 2012
- Basic Spanish Language Skills