

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Hello Wonderful Congregants,

I want to thank so many of you for joining the Congregational Meeting in mid-December in person and on Zoom. And what a highlight to have the Cantor accompanied by three of our very young congregants in song – now that was very joyful!

At that meeting we welcomed four new board members: Judy Danzig, Lisa Glass-Kornstein, Molly Ritvo and Rebecca Sherlock. These four bring great skills and experience to our board. And I am so delighted that they will be involved in our on-going journey.

After the meeting, the board met to elect its officers for the coming year. As this article indicates I will be taking over from Nat as President. Nat has led us for nearly two years through the most challenging period OZ has ever faced. And I hope that as we come out of this COVID period that we can find many places where we come together and celebrate Nat's hard work and leadership.

Joining me will be Judy Danzig as Vice President. Judy takes over from Suzanne Brown, who has provided her steady leadership and wisdom and has counseled us well in our Executive Committee meetings.

Lisa Glass-Kornstein replaces me as Secretary. Lisa brings experience and energy that will broaden and strengthen the secretary role.

Bill Miller will continue in his role as Treasurer (for which I am very thankful). This will be a thoughtful, hard-working executive team working alongside the full board as we meet the challenges and opportunities for the future.

Our goal as we move into 2022 is to make this a year of ACTION and truly begin to deliver on our Imagine 2025 Road Map. Over the next 90 days we will orient new board members, establish clear goals for this coming year, and work collaboratively with the staff and all our committees to support our Imagine 2025 vision:

Belonging Through Welcoming,
Meaningful and Joyous Jewish Experiences.
