

FULL CIRCLE PRESCHOOL

The children and teachers at Full Circle have been taking full advantage of this glorious weather! We've been busy gardening, composting, and tending to our beautiful woods as we continue to support our children in being stewards of the earth. Loosening the earth and making room for new growth feels particularly joyful this year as we slowly awaken from such a long, arduous winter. If you have any starter plants you'd like to donate to the Full Circle gardens, please let us know!

As of April, all staff of OZ Full Circle Preschool are fully vaccinated! We continue to practice all safety guidelines as we remain committed to keeping our learning community open and safe for all!

With the help of generous donations, we were able to purchase a wooden playground set for our nature playground through Cedarworks. It will arrive June 4 and we will come together as a community (safely distanced) to assemble it for the children. This is key in supporting the active play and motor development of the children at Full Circle as we encourage them to take age-appropriate risks in their play, develop new skills, and experiment with their own limitations.

Our new school year begins August 30, 2021 and our enrollment is already full for the coming school year! We are expanding our teaching team in the fall and will hire a new lead young toddler teacher! This will allow me to take a step back from my dual roles as lead teacher and program director so that I can step fully into my role as director and invest more time into supporting the children and teachers in all classrooms. I will also have the chance to enhance our programming, build more partnerships within the OZ community, and continue to find new ways to provide quality care for our future generation. If you know of any professionals seeking an entry level teaching position, please contact me.
