

An Invitation to Community

Casa de Misericordia, an intentional and intergenerational faith community, invites you and persons of all genders, faith traditions, members of religious congregations and laity to live together. We create our shared life around community, prayer and service. As possible, we engage migrant persons by presence, direct service and/or systemic change efforts.

We are located at Our Lady of Guadalupe Parish in the Barrio Logan district of San Diego, California. Ninety percent (90%) of the local population is of Hispanic heritage. Approximately one-third (33%) of them live below the poverty level.
