Judge to Host Traffic Violators Impact Program on Distracted and Dangerous Driving

DECATUR, Ga.—State Court Judge Kiesha R. Storey will continue to host the Teen Victim Impact Program (TVIP) (now known as the Traffic Violators Impact Program) in 2019.

Presentations will be held from 5:30-7 p.m. on Jan. 10, April 11, July 11 and Oct. 10 in Courtroom A of the DeKalb County State Court Traffic Division located at 3630 Camp Circle, Decatur, GA 30032.

Judge Storey hosts quarterly TVIP presentations to raise awareness of the dangers of risky driving behaviors for young drivers facing traffic citations.

Teen and young adult drivers charged with offenses including, but not limited to, high speeding tickets, texting while driving, or causing an accident by violating the rules of the road, will gather to hear and watch stories of young people who thought a serious crash would never happen to them, but learned the tragic consequences of taking risks and failing to pay attention while driving.

Courts and prosecutors in many jurisdictions send attendees to TVIP for traffic citations in addition to Department of Driver Services-approved driver improvement courses.

For more information, visit www.tvip.org. Participants may register online or in person at the event. There is a $40 fee for attendees who need a certificate of attendance for court purposes, but individuals may attend for free if they do not need a certificate.
