Skyler Fantin

My name is Skyler Fantin and I joined the OPS in 2023 as a legal administrator with the Ministry of the Attorney General in Windsor. I am third VP on my Local Employee Relations Committee. I am also on my workplace's Joint Health and Safety Committee and recently was elected to the Local Employee Relations Committee. Prior to joining the ministry I earned an undergraduate degree in Equity and Gender Studies and a Master of Social Work. Outside of work, I enjoy gardening and being outside. Environmental work is something I hope to bring into the union.

I am a first time mobilizer and excited to be part of the next wave of connection and change. I know connecting with each other can be a challenge, especially when locals have many different worksites and ministries. From my own experience in my composite local, I know we have many shared concerns across ministries. I am excited to help grow relationships and unite our members.

Tammy Lecuyer

I have proudly served the Ministry of the Attorney General's Court Services Division for over 15 years and have become a passionate advocate for both regular and fixed-term (FXT) workers, committed to fairness, equality, and strengthening our union. In just a few years of union activism, I have served as a Unit Steward, LERC Representative, Local Vice-President, and now President of OPSEU/SEFPO Local 205. I also serve as a Region 2 HDPP Advisor, Vice-Chair of the Region 2 Area Coordinating Group, and represent Local 205 on the Hamilton District Labour Council and the South West Area Council. My passion is about engaging members, building solidarity, and ensuring every member understands their rights, and the power of their voice.

Carla Reid

Carla is currently employed with the Ministry of the Attorney General at the Superior Court of Justice and brings more than twenty years of experience across multiple areas of legal practice, including family law, child welfare, criminal law, real estate, civil litigation, small claims, and legal administration. Since 2019, Carla has served as an active Union Representative and member of her Local Employment Relations Committee (LERC). She has consistently advocated for equitable opportunity and improved representation for Black and racialized members within the workplace. Recognizing the need for intentional spaces of support, Carla founded the committee When Black Professionals Meet (WBPM) in 2023. This initiative was created to support racialized employees and foster a safe and affirming environment where members can engage in meaningful dialogue about workplace experiences, systemic barriers, and professional development.

Carla grounds her work in what she describes as the “Mirror Test,” a principle rooted in integrity and accountability. She believes that the decisions we make should allow us to look in the mirror at the end of the day with confidence and pride. Guided by this principle, she strives to ensure that every individual she encounters feels heard, respected, and fairly represented. Her continued focus remains on defending workers against unsafe workplaces, calling out toxic employers, building systems and spaces that reflect fairness, accountability, and collective progress for all members. What matters most to Carla is that when she advocates for members, it is not about being the loudest person in the room. It is about being someone others can rely on when no one is watching.

Jaime Brault-Larocque

My name is Jaime Brault-Larocque, and I am thrilled to bring 24 years of dedicated Ontario Public Service experience to my role as a Unified Mobilizer. Outside of my career, I am the proud mom of two grown sons who inspire me daily. Throughout my journey, I have gained valuable frontline insight working in the Land Registry Office and ServiceOntario. For the past seven years, I have also served as a Local President. These roles gave me deep roots in our union and a thorough understanding of our members' unique challenges. As a fully bilingual professional, I connect with members in both official languages. My organizational skills and ability to learn rapidly help me adapt quickly to evolving campaign needs. I am excited to step into this vital position. I look forward to working hard alongside you to help OPSEU/SEFPO achieve its organizing goals and build a stronger, united collective front.

Mike Hull

I've been active in the union for about a year now as part of OPSEU/SEFPO Local 526. I am excited for this campaign and am looking forward to engaging people through the union.

René Knight

I'm René Knight from North Bay. I previously worked as an OPS Unified Mobilizer from September to December 2025, and I'm excited to be returning as the Region 6 OPS Mobilizer. I currently serve as President of OPSEU/SEFPO Local 634, Vice-President of the North Bay & District Labour Council, and as the Region 6 representative on the Provincial Young Workers Committee.

I believe a strong union starts with members feeling heard, supported, and comfortable speaking up. I enjoy connecting with members, hearing about what's happening in their workplaces, and helping them learn how to advocate for themselves and become more involved with the union. I'm looking forward to building and strengthening relationships with members throughout Region 6 and working together on the issues that matter most.

Ignacio Santander-Alfonso

Ignacio Santander-Alfonso (he/him), a lifelong eco feminist, social justice warrior, grew up at union meetings and town halls. With over 15 years of experience working for OPSEU/SEFPO in local executive roles in Region 4 and Region 7, Ignacio has led his locals to drafting of bylaws, organizing LERCs and tirelessly fighting for his fellow Court Services and MAG employees. Ignacio is dedicated to engaging and inspiring members and using his wealth of experience and knowledge to mobilize others who are passionate about social activism.

Mike Greene

Mike Greene is a Child and Youth Worker at the Child and Parent Resource Institute in London, which is a tertiary level children's treatment facility. The Child and Parent Resource Institute provides specialized assessment, treatment and targeted interventions for children and youth with complex special needs and mental health challenges. Mike is currently the OPSEU/SEFPO Local 112 President and has held this position since 2017. Mike has been the Worker Co-Chair for the Joint Health and Safety Committee at CPRI since 2015. Mike is currently the MCCSS Unified MERC Health and Safety Representative and is the current CPRI representative on the MCCSS Unified Alternate Dispute Resolution Committee. Previously, Mike was a Chief Steward and began his union activism as a shop steward. Mike enjoys engaging with members of OPSEU/SEFPO and providing them with information and knowledge regarding their collective agreement and other legislative protections. Mike believes that we increase our power as a union by developing an informed and active membership and that it is vitally important that union representatives listen to the needs and requirements of members.

Oren Nimelman

I'm an MTO deckhand on the Wolfe Island Ferry in Kingston and VP of Local 428. My job used to be able to support a family; Now members struggle to get by. I came to the OPS after time in the military, political organizing, and as a civilian organizing on-the-ground war-zone aid.

A union supporter before my time in OPS, I pushed for policy friendly to labour. We all do jobs that society needs, and nobody should be stuck pulling food out of the grocery cart before checkout.

In my spare time, I enjoy my 80s-era motorcycle, hunting, canoeing, cooking, silversmithing, and saying unrepeatable things to my printer.

I'm also Chair of the R4 Hardship Fund, and I'm Vice Chair of the Region 4 Area Coordinating Group (ACG). As Vice President of Local 428, I enjoy challenging management's use of encroaching contractors and abuse of precarious contracts. Management doesn't seem to enjoy it as much.

Christopher Doyle

Chris is the Acting President for OPSEU/SEFPO Local 532, the Co-Chair of his local's Organizing Committee and a mobilizer alumni. He dreams of the day when Despotic Oligarchs and Tech Bros are a bad dream, and he believes that collective action can move mountains.

Gabrielle Gagne

Gabrielle is a returning mobilizer, singer-songwriter, and dedicated union activist. She works for ServiceOntario with the Ministry of Public and Business Service Delivery and Procurement (MPBSPD), where she proudly serves the people of Ontario. Outside of her career, Gabrielle releases original music on Spotify, Apple Music, and other streaming platforms under the name Gabriella Dampier. She currently serves as the 2nd Vice President for OPSEU/SEFPO Local 649 and has been committed to learning about the labour movement since she first entered the workforce.

Coming from a family without a union background, Gabrielle made it a personal mission to understand the history, purpose, and value of unions. That journey has fueled her passion for educating and engaging members, encouraging solidarity, and helping others recognize the importance of collective action. Whether through music or union advocacy, Gabrielle is passionate about bringing people together, inspiring positive change, and strengthening the voices of workers.
