

IRS Benefit Plan Limits for 2022

Presented by Boston Wealth Strategies, Inc.

On November 4, 2021, the Internal Revenue Service released Notice 2021-61, announcing cost-of-living adjustments that affect contribution limits for retirement plans and retirement accounts in 2022. The list below, though not exhaustive, highlights key changes that retirement plan sponsors should be aware of, as well as several limitations that remain unchanged from 2020:

- The elective deferral limit is increasing from $19,500 to $20,500.
- The catch-up contribution limit for employees ages 50 and older remains unchanged at $6,500.
- The aggregate contribution limit for defined contribution plans is increasing from $58,000 to $61,000.
- The annual compensation limit used to calculate contributions is increasing from $290,000 to $305,000.
- The limitation on the annual benefit under a defined benefit is increasing from $230,000 to $245,000. (For a participant who separated from service before January 1, 2022, the limitation for defined benefit plans under Section 415(b)(1)(B) can be computed by multiplying the participant's compensation limitation, as adjusted through 2021, by 1.0534.)
- The dollar limit used in the definition of "key employee" in a top-heavy retirement plan is increasing from $185,000 to $200,000.
- The dollar limit used in the definition of "highly compensated employee" is increasing from $130,000 to $135,000.

The table below displays 2021 and 2022 limits for a host of tax breaks:
