

MONTGOMERY PLACE

SPRING SALON SERIES 2018

Presented by Bard College, Montgomery Place Campus and Hudson River Heritage

Montgomery Place: A Window on the World of Alexander Jackson Davis' Architecture and Design

April 14

PETER WATSON

“A.J. Davis: Artist & Architect”

Peter Watson is a preservationist and architectural historian focused on 19th century history and culture.

AARON AHLSTROM

“A.J. Davis: Classical Architecture, and Reforming America’s Rural Landscapes”

Aaron Ahlstrom is a Bard alumnus and a doctoral candidate in American history at Boston University.

April 21

JOHN WAITE AND DOUGLAS BUCHER

“A.J. Davis: Makeover of a Hudson Valley Mansion”

John Waite is an architect specializing in historic preservation. Douglas Bucher is a conservator and consultant with John G. Waite Associates.

April 28

PETER KENNY AND MARK LYTLE

“Paying for Eden: the Economics of Country House Culture in the Hudson Valley”

Peter Kenny is the Co-Director of the Classical American Homes Preservation Trust. Mark Lytle is Professor Emeritus of History at Bard College.

May 5

EMILY MAJER AND GRETTA TRITCH ROMAN

“A.J. Davis’ Swiss Cottage and 1861 Farmhouse: The Pragmatic Picturesque at Cedar Hill”

Emily Majer is a Bard alumna and a preservation and restoration carpenter. Gretta Tritch Roman, Ph.D (Architectural History) teaches in the Experimental Humanities program at Bard College.

For tickets or more information call:
(845) 876-2474 or visit: hudsonriverheritage.org
or email: office@hudsonriverheritage.org

$25 per session or $90 for all four sessions
3:00 to 5:30 PM each day.

Limited to 40 seats per session.