Distributing Health Information / Quilt Making/Painting

This opportunity is open to all members of Minnesota Valleys Presbytery and friends. You may use the application form printed on the other side of this sheet. Submit your application to Jim Krapf before the Nov 8 deadline. Orientation for participants will be scheduled at a time suitable for participants; possibly Nov 20. You will be a part of a team that includes veteran participants. With in-country transportation accommodations, we can take up to 11 people.

Activities

Projects: Health Fairs, Quilting Classes, Painting Manse Walls (subject to change)

Additional days are allotted for travel, worship, meetings, and visits.

Participants in the Fairs will help distribute information regarding health issues (primarily women's concerns) You will team up with medical personnel from Guatemala.

Participants in the Classes will assist in quilt making for the personal use and the for additional income for their families.

Translators will be available during the Network Meeting and the Projects.

Cost will vary depending on airfare, housing, a few meals when traveling, and personal shopping.* You could anticipate your expenses being approximately $1200 to $1500. Currently airfares are $700 to $800. Previous participants have received support from their local churches, friends, and family.

From several sources, we have limited finances that can be allotted as supplements to people who request financial assistance.

* During the projects, some housing and meals will be provided by our hosts. Some hotel stays (usually $50/night) and meals in restaurants will also occur. You will experience a gracious welcome by all.

Passports are required. Make sure yours is current. The usual process takes close to six weeks.

The value of your participation will not be what you accomplish, but what you experience. Encouraged by MVP's financial support and previous participation, our partners have been empowered to take the initiative to carry out projects with their capable trained leadership.

What you will experience is the nurturing of your faith by people who worship joyfully in spite of their situations of poverty, violence, and natural disasters. You will make friendships with people who are dedicated to "developing transformative global disciples for Jesus Christ."
