

NFI Cal Cartage has a long history of stealing our wages and putting us in harm's way with numerous health and safety violations.

“Lowe’s is currently working with a company that forces us to use faulty equipment. I know Lowe’s would certainly hope that whatever company it is contracting with would respect it, not have so many violations on the records, obey the law and treat workers with respect.”

- JEREMY HOKE, NFI WAREHOUSE WORKER

Lowe’s needs to contract only with high-road companies that treat us fairly, with dignity and respects our rights as workers.

Lowe’s has an opportunity to show its commitment to us—the workers who make their business successful, our families and our communities—by acting as a responsible company.
