World-class, Comprehensive Training

The N-Hance Quick-Start Program is designed to guide our franchise owners through their first year of business and set them up for success well beyond that. Quick-Start begins as soon as you sign the franchise agreement. We provide a pre-training checklist so you can begin learning about the brand before you attend our robust in-person training. This initial training covers every aspect of your business from sales and marketing, to customer service and operations, to hands-on technical experience. Even after you've completed the initial in-person training and you've begun to grow your business, you and your team will be able to keep building your expertise through our advanced online learning platform, N-Hance University, which we work actively to update with the latest, most relevant content.
