Bruce E. Atlas

Bruce E. Atlas is the Chief Operating Officer of the Ontario International Airport Authority where he oversees the Airport's day-to-day operations. An aviation veteran, he has nearly two decades of experience, most recently as Southwest Airlines' Station Manager at Ontario Airport. Mr. Atlas has served in a variety of positions with Southwest Airlines since 1998. Under his leadership, the carrier's Ontario operation was recognized as the "Top Performing Station" in 2009 and 2014, and "Top Performing Station in Cargo" in 2007. During his previous position as assistant station manager for ramp and operations at Los Angeles International Airport,