Vehicle Registration Services to Return to Flemington NJMVC Location in 2026

Commissioner Director Lanza: “This Is Welcome News for Hunterdon Residents”

(Hunterdon County, NJ) – The Hunterdon County Commissioner Board announced that the New Jersey Motor Vehicle Commission (NJMVC) will restore vehicle registration services to the Flemington NJMVC Agency in 2026, marking a return to the pre-pandemic model of allowing drivers to complete both license and vehicle transactions at the same location.

The decision follows ongoing advocacy from the Hunterdon County Commissioners, who urged state officials to reinstate registration services to better serve county residents, local governments, and small businesses.

Commissioner Director John E. Lanza expressed appreciation for the collaboration that made this outcome possible, stating, “I would like to thank members of the 15th, 16th, and 23rd Legislative Districts for their cooperative and bipartisan work on this issue. Senator Andrew Zwicker shared the development in an email with me and my colleagues earlier yesterday, and this is welcome news for Hunterdon residents.”

In their September 3, 2025 letter to NJMVC Acting Chief Administrator Latrecia Littles-Floyd, the Commissioners highlighted the challenges created by the previous service reduction: “Due to the facility’s inability to process vehicle registrations, Hunterdon County residents, businesses, and local governments have been required to travel to out-of-county NJMVC facilities to obtain these services. This circumstance results in increased costs, diminished productivity, and creates a competitive disadvantage for smaller county auto dealers.”

Commissioner Zach Rich also praised the outcome, emphasizing the local impact: “Returning vehicle registration services to the Flemington NJMVC facility is a major win for our small businesses and residents alike. This has been an issue that I have heard from many folks about, and I was pleased to bring this issue forward in an effort to bring about a solution.”

MEDIA RELEASE

The Commissioners were formally notified of the change by Acting Chief Administrator Little-Floyd, who confirmed that the Flemington agency will become a hybrid agency—enabling both driver’s license and vehicle transactions—sometime in 2026.

Commissioner Director Lanza added, “This positive development demonstrates that when local and state officials work together in a bipartisan manner, real solutions for our residents can be achieved.”
