Understanding the Challenges Caregivers Experience During and After Psychiatric Emergency Department visit with Dually Diagnosed Children

What is the study about?

This project aims to determine the challenges caregivers of dually diagnosed children (IDD and mental health disorders) experience during and after a Psychiatric Emergency Department visit to provide more resources for families once they are discharged.

What does the study entail?

- If you join the study, we will send you a survey inquiring about the challenges you may have experienced during and after a Psychiatric Emergency Department visit.
- Completion of the survey will take less than 20 minutes.

Who should complete the survey?

- Caregivers ages 18 to 88 years of dually diagnosed individuals between the ages 3 to 21 years will be eligible for the study.
- Only English-speaking participants will be enrolled in the study.
