Biographical Information

Eugene B. Meyer, President of The Federalist Society for Law and Public Policy Studies, has served as Executive Director, CEO, and/or President of the organization for more than 35 years. He is responsible for shepherding the organization from a small group of law students to a community of 60,000 lawyers, law students, academics, judges, and others dedicated to principles of limited government, the separation of powers, the rule of law, and the idea that the role of the courts should be to say what the law is, not what it ought to be. The Society now includes a student chapter at nearly every ABA accredited law school in the country and lawyers chapters in 75 major cities across the nation. Previously, he was legislative director in the Office of Congressman Gregory Carmen and state and communications coordinator of the National Tax Limitation Committee. Mr. Meyer earned his B.A. in History at Yale and M.A. in Political Science from the London School of Economics. He serves on the boards of the U.S. Chess Center, the Holman Foundation, the Adam Smith Society, and the Conservative Action Project (CAP). He holds the title of International Chess Master. Mr. Meyer lives in McLean, Virginia with his wife Lori and their son.
