KEYNOTE SPEAKER

LORI GOLDEN

Ernst & Young

Abilities Strategy Leader

Lori Golden is EY Abilities Strategy Leader, driving efforts to build an enabling, inclusive environment for people of all abilities. She advises the firm's over 1,000 member AccessAbilities professional network, leads initiatives to enhance accessibility in EY offices, communications, meetings, trainings and technology, educate EY people on abilities issues and create new recruiting and employment models. Lori's helped build programs including WorkWell@EY on ergonomics; EY's Neurodiversity Centers of Excellence, and We Care, aimed at equipping colleagues to support colleagues struggling with mental illness or substance misuse.

A frequent speaker on disabilities employment issues, Lori serves on the US Department of Labor's Circle of Champions, the Disability: IN Global Roundtable, the Autism at Work Employer Roundtable, is Vice Chair of the Board of TransCen and served on the Board of Directors of the US Business Leadership Network (USBLN) and its Corporate Advisory Board.

Lori is a winner of EY's Chairman's Values Award and EY's Better Begins with You Award for Innovation. She's been with Ernst & Young 21 years and is a graduate of Harvard University.
