

You are invited to participate in a CrowdLoop Initiative. The ultimate goal is to use the collective wisdom of participants to identify the best solutions to the question below. The first phase, Ideation, encourages divergent thinking in order to create, and iterate on, new ideas and solutions. This creative and collaborative process relies on the submission of ideas and active commenting from participants. The second phase, Prioritization, will allow the collective input of the crowd to identify the best ideas through voting.

What are your best ideas for tracking attendance in a non-traditional learning environment?
