

Sector Capacity Building in the Wraparound Service Delivery Model for Newcomer Youth

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Regional 5-year initiative led by Centre for Newcomers that seeks to develop sector capacity in the use of the wraparound service delivery model which will standardize and coordinate service delivery for newcomer youth. The project is funded by Immigration, Refugee and Citizenship Canada (IRCC) and will work with settlement and non-settlement agencies across IRCC's PNT Region (Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and the Northwest Territories) to build organizational capacity in the use and implementation of wraparound service delivery for newcomer youth.

The project will put learning into action. Processes and programs will be informed by lived experience of newcomer youth to ensure they feel welcomed and successful in their life in Canada. The use of the wraparound process as a tool will help achieve this goal by allowing youth and partners to reflect and evaluate on their own responses to newcomer youth settlement, allowing for modification of practices where, and when, needed.

BENEFITS OF THIS PROJECT

ORGANIZATION PARTNERS

- A chance to engage and liaise with other sectors and industries to help support newcomer youth services within respective organizations by reflecting on the practises of lived experience.
- Opportunity to become a part of the community response to settlement by understanding the process and impact of immigration on youth settlement.
- Liaise with other sectors and learn from their practices. Enhance organizational capacity to respond effectively to newcomer youth and families.
- Learn key aspects of settlement, from other sectors, that can support your own organization's human resource and diversity and inclusion policies; employee engagement; and the success of industry mandates.

YOUTH PARTNERS

- A chance for your voice to be heard and reflected in the development of newcomer youth programming in the future.
- Opportunity to engage with settlement, non-settlement, industry and government organizations to share your experience with settlement services in Canada.
- Learn more about wraparound service delivery, share your ideas, experiences and expertise. Help identify service gaps and craft innovative solutions to fill these gaps.
- Deploy and develop leadership and communication skills.
- Develop relationships and connections with other youth, organizations and businesses across Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and the NWT.
