

LeMessurier, an award-winning structural engineering consulting firm, is seeking a Senior Project Manager in our Boston Office. LeMessurier works closely with architects, owners, contractors, developers, and artists from around the world on a wide variety of projects.

We seek a Senior Project Manager to enhance delivery on our special projects. The responsibilities include:

Senior Project Manager

- Design, calculate, model, draw and prepare documents for reports, studies, contract drawings or other deliverables related to myriad project types including retrofits and structural enhancements.
- Visit project sites prior to design to observe and document pertinent information.
- Coordinate in-office and subconsultant resources in execution of the above.
- Engage in the full breadth of projects from proposals through construction, and invoicing.
- Build, strengthen and maintain client relations centered around successful completion of work.
- This position reports to the project's Principal-In-Charge.

The ideal Senior Project Manager candidate will have the following qualifications:

- Registered Professional Engineer in Massachusetts with ten-to-fifteen years work experience in the architectural-engineering-construction industry.
- Exceptional writing, editing and verbal communication skills, with keen attention to detail.
- Strong organization skills, with the ability to work independently and collaboratively while managing multiple demands.
- Experience with litigation and expert testimony.
- Functional knowledge of Revit and experience administering projects on teams using Revit; familiarity with analytical software such as Tekla, STAAD, Risa or SAP; wide use of Microsoft Office.
- The desire and ability to thrive in a high-energy, service-oriented, deadline-driven environment.

LeMessurier offers a competitive salary commensurate with experience, a comprehensive benefits package which includes medical, dental, disability, and life insurances, 401K plan, tuition reimbursement, paid vacation, and more. LeMessurier is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Please submit your resume and cover letter as one document in either PDF or Word format to employment@lemessurier.com. Please articulate in your cover letter how your past experience and current goals qualify you for this position.
