Rounding the bend into the second half of our season with a brilliant stageful of musical delight August 4 from 5:30-7:30pm at Steamboat Landing Park, Belfast.

NOAH FISHMAN & FRIENDS return to Belfast Summer Nights. Known for his instrumental virtuosity and creativity, Noah ventures to make bold, playful statements by bending lines between folk, chamber, and jazz. As ever, Noah's fresh musicality and craftsman with a tune will impress- this time he brings friends Lillian Sawyer on fiddle, Emily Troll on accordion and fiddle, and Neil Pearlman on piano, the band will play original and traditional music for this annual hometown show. Bring a picnic and get ready for an hour of genre-bending, energetic tunes.

LOUISA STANCIOFF & THE KELLY BOYS is an indie folk and roll band based in Mid-coast Maine and have been knocking the socks off crowds all over! Louisa's Bulgarian heritage shows through in her intricate melodies, having grown up singing the ethereal, often dissonant traditional folk music with her family.

Her bandmates, Dave and Dan Kelly are brothers from Bucksport, ME, and have grown up on the stage. They started playing in bands in elementary school, including playing with the well known local artist, Willy Kelly, who also happens to be their dad.

The show is at Steamboat Landing, Belfast, from 5:30pm to 7:30pm on Thursday, August 4th. This show is brought to you in part by Trillium Caterers, our fiscal sponsor Waterfall Arts, the City of Belfast and our many many community and individual sponsors. Free admission, and we pass the hat for free-will donations. NO dogs in the lower concert area. Bring a picnic, the family, friends, chairs, and dancing shoes to enjoy one of the funnest events in midcoast Maine.
