

Take Action with Matching Challenge 2025!

Millions of work days are lost due to domestic abuse (Maine Coalition to End Domestic Violence). Employees may miss work because they are injured, denied access to transportation, being threatened by their abuser, or experiencing threats of harm to their children and/or pets.

Recent ongoing uncertainty at the national level and the fact that many federal funding sources are at risk, heighten the importance of giving as community and social needs remain. That's why area businesses like Allen Insurance & Financial, Cold Mountain Builders, and Eastern Tire & Auto Service are stepping up to address domestic abuse head on.

This year's matching challenge features the generosity of several area businesses who have pledged to match all donations made during the month of April dollar-for-dollar. They understand the tremendous and lasting impact of domestic abuse and join us in inviting everyone to donate today.

All donations received from now through April 30th will be matched dollar for dollar!
