

SOLAVEDI ORGANICS: Carollanne Crichton's Inspired Skincare Formulary

Solavedi Organics was created with a singular intention in mind – to offer you the most pure, conscientious and innovative skincare possible.

I am inspired by the beauty all around here in Maine: the wild ocean's deep sea mineral source, voluptuous green farmlands, vascular evergreen forests, breathable open skies and the nourishing harvests.

It's all food.

From newborn to elder skincare, I want Solavedi's skincare products to count as contributing to your minimum daily requirements.

What Sets Solavedi Organics Apart From Most Commercial Skincare Lines:

Expertly Curated

QUALITY PROMISES:

Carollanne is passionate about her work. Her Solavedi Organics is not a fast food skincare company with mass manufactured cosmetics or outsourced products.

She believes that true health and beauty are grown, not manufactured.

Freshly gathered flowers, herbs and sea vegetation are slowly infused into pure oils in her signature triple extraction process (3X0) before being whipped into your perfectly balanced face cream or serum.

Thoughtfully sourcing each ingredient is vital not only to the quality of Solavedi's products, but also for the ethical treatment of those involved in the harvesting process.

LIKE ORGANIC FOOD, SOLAVEDI'S SKINCARE IS PERISHABLE

Carollanne formulates, pours, labels and packs every small batch by hand. The product you receive is always fresh. She notes the expiration date on each product, and asks that you finish it by that date.

Short expiration dates and disclosure of the perishable nature of our organic skincare has allowed her to eliminate the need for synthetic ingredients entirely, while delivering active and effective solutions for your skincare needs.
