Belfast Flying Shoes Presents Mac's Music and Movie

BELFAST – Belfast Flying Shoes presents “Mac’s Music and Movie” on Friday, February 4 at 6:00 pm at the Basil Burwell Community Theater in Belfast. The evening of fiddle tunes and a film marks the participatory dance and music nonprofit’s joyful return to 1st Friday programming.

Celebrated local musicians, Molly Gawler and Ethan Tischler, will lead an All Comers Band music workshop on tunes written by Bob McQuillen, affectionately known as “Mac”, the beloved contra dance piano and accordion player from the Monadnock Region of NH. Both Gawler and Tischler delight in playing rousing dance tunes, including with the Gawler Family Band, and they are eager to highlight Bob’s contributions to our music traditions.

A special showing of “Paid to Eat Ice Cream: Bob McQuillen and New England Contra Dance” follows the workshop. The 70 minute video documents Mac’s career as a dance musician, musical mentor, and tunesmith, and includes a generous portion of the tattooed National Heritage Fellow’s humor.

The event concludes with an All Comers Band jam session, featuring more of Bob's tunes and other favorites. Musicians of all ages, experience levels, and instruments are welcome. Attendees who don't play an instrument are invited to enjoy listening from their seats.

Sliding scale admission is $5-20 per person. All attendees must wear a mask. The Bazz is at 17 Court Street. Doors open at 5:30 for instrument tuning.
