Walk-ins are welcome.

Our guidelines are constantly changing for in-person worship as we slowly emerge out of the pandemic. Thank you for your patience and your understanding through all of it. We are doing the best we can, erring on the side of love and safety. That alone should be something that unites us and brings us together. Here are the guidelines for in-person worship right now.

- Masks are completely optional for fully vaccinated people.
- Everyone is welcome to sing. We respectfully ask everyone to wear a mask while singing.
- We are continuing our check-in for the 9:15 am service in the narthex. You may exit by any door.
- Continue the elbow bumps! Shaking hands and hugging can spread germs.
- Continue to be thoughtful and gracious with others. Use hand sanitizer and wash hands regularly.

Together, with God's help, we can defeat COVID-19. Together, with God's help, we will come out of this stronger.

Blessings,
Byron

Climb Aboard the Rocky Railway!
Bel Air United Methodist Church Vacation Bible School

Can you help a VBS Director out?

We need...

Garden hoses

Canopies

Baby Pools

PVC to make a rain shower (and people to build it)

Plain plastic spray bottles (20)

Here's the Skinny on VBS 2021

We will be conducting our Rocky Railway VBS outside this year. Due to this being our first major event since COVID we are limiting the amount of children. We are capping off at 100 children. The children will be in crews of 5 with a leader. The crews will be mixed ages. We are asking 4 yr olds thru 5th grade be together. We will be unable to run a separate Preschool VBS this year. We will have "some" access in the building. We will accommodate the heat with lots of water and water games. We need 50 teens/adults to have a successful return to VBS.

If there is any stress about registration please sign up with your phone and address and bring your $5 the first day for offering to our mission of the week.

Summer is the perfect time to recline with a book, so why not choose one that will stretch your thinking?
Caste, The Origins of our Discontent, by Isabel Wilkerson

Named the #1 nonfiction book of the year by TIME and the #1 New York Times Bestseller

In this powerful and extraordinarily timely social history, Wilkerson investigates the origins, evolution, and inner workings of America's unspoken caste system that has shaped our country and shows how our lives today are still defined by a hierarchy of human divisions.

Tracking the inception of the country's race-based "ranking of human value" to the arrival of the first slave ship in 1619, Wilkerson draws on the works of anthropologists, geneticists, and social economists to uncover the arbitrariness of racial divisions, and finds startling parallels to the caste systems of India and Nazi Germany.

Incisive autobiographical anecdotes and captivating portraits of black pioneers including baseball pitcher Satchel Paige and husband-and-wife anthropologists Allison and Elizabeth Davis reveal the steep price U.S. society pays for limiting the potential for some of its people. Finally, she points forward to ways America can move beyond the artificial and destructive separations of human divisions, toward hope in our common humanity.

Beautifully written and revealing, this book is an eye-opening story of people and history, and a reexamination of what lies under the surface of American life today. The Racial Justice Ministry highly recommends this book. (Adapted from Amanda Usher, Dwight Garner, The Amazon Book Club)

17-years ago, I wrote a little newsletter article on cicadas. 17-years later, a woman reminded me of the article. She'd kept it on her refrigerator for the last 17 years. I'm deeply impressed, and deeply moved. I didn't even remember writing it. I'm sharing it with you now, since we're still in the year of the cicada, 2021. Enjoy!

"Everything I ever needed to know in life..." I learned from the cicada:

- When you grow, it's time to shed your skin.
- The boys are noisier than the girls.
- Pesticides, too much construction, and extreme weather are bad things.
- It's fun to sneak up behind somebody.
- There are four major transforming moments in life.
- Look scary; be gentle.
- Cicadas won't ruin your wedding... Aunt Ruth might.
- There are some people out there who want to gobble you up.
- Watch out for big trucks.
- And... finally... life is best when you hum your way through it.

Well, you might not have gotten anything biblical or spiritual out of this. Or then again, maybe you might have. Either way, I won't BUG you anymore. Blessings on your day!

Grace and peace!
Byron
