

Greetings from C.S. Lewis Institute Virginia Beach!

We are thrilled to announce we will be hosting a showing of the wonderful new film Hollywood, Teach Us to Pray on Saturday, March 25th at 1 p.m. at Family Fun Theatre located at 206 16th Street, Virginia Beach, VA 23451. Tickets are $10.00 each and can be purchased online at <https://ffx.cool/CSLI>.

This 90-minute film produced by renowned C.S. Lewis scholar Dr. Terry Lindvall focuses on the surprising role prayer has played in the history of American movies. I am very pleased that Dr. Lindvall has agreed to stay after the movie and give what I am sure will be a lively and engaging presentation on the topic of prayer. This film serves two purposes. First, it thoughtfully engages the secular culture on the topic of prayer using the popular medium of the movies. I previewed this film at the Naro Theatre to a packed house with a largely secular audience who by the end of the evening received a seamless Gospel presentation. With that in mind, this film is perfectly suited to bring someone who is thinking about faith issues. And second, for those of us who are followers of Christ, it forces us to examine the role of prayer in our own lives – prayer's purpose, prayer's praxis, and prayer's importance. This will be a FUN event in a great venue.
