

Fall OA Events a Hit!

By Zack Demars

Sikhs Mox Lamonti Lodge Communications Vice Chief

The Lodge has had a busy start to Fall! The major event of the season was Conclave 2017, at Camp Piggott, where arrowmen from all over Western Washington and Alaska gather to participate in fun, fellowship, and training. Some highlights included classes on everything from Dutch Oven Cooking to Pyrotechnics, as well as the always-entertaining shows lead by our own Alaric Ganger. Another all-time favorite was the cotton candy and bounce houses!

On Saturday evening, the youth of the Section met to elect the next slate of officers for Section W-1N. Our own members Antonyo Mitchell and Mac Richards were elected to the offices of Section Chief and Vice Chief, respectively, marking the third year in a row the office of Section Chief was held by a Sikhs Mox Lamonti member. Also elected was Section Secretary Adam Kipust of the T'kope Kwiskwis Lodge.

Also this Fall, on October 27-29, the Lodge held its Fall Ordeal and Lodge Annual Business Meeting (at which new Lodge officers were elected). Since this article was written prior to the Ordeal, there's little I can say about it other than what Lodge Adviser Nick Spencer-Berger discovered using his crystal ball: "Fall Ordeal was excellent! We had about 50 new members join the Order in service to the Council, and we elected a great new slate of Lodge Officers. I'm looking forward to working with them next year!"

Looking ahead, all Lodge members (and their families) are invited to the 2018 Lodge Annual Fellowship and Banquet on January 19-20, 2018. We'll be celebrating the new year with great fun and fellowship, as well as food for the whole family. At the banquet, we'll be presenting a number of awards, including the Vigil Callout, the Forktapus award, and the prestigious Founder's Award!
