To the Extended Family at Gloria Dei:

Joanne Monaghan has been to visit the Somerton Food Bank several times already in 2025. The non-perishable foods you have been donating have been our saving grace so far this year. We have been busy with people seeking relief from the continuing high prices of food. Many of our clients are working poor who are trying to make their way on their own but simply don't earn enough to cover all their expenses over the course of a month. Other people who continue to visit our food bank are retirees who find that their Social Security does not take them through the month without some assistance. We do not know what the future holds for the food bank as we have not had any notice thus far of any changes. We would appreciate your prayers that we can continue to serve the people of the Far Northeast without any interruptions. We humbly thank you all for your generosity, your support and your giving spirit. Your support has been a blessing to us at the food bank.

As we approach Holy Week, we thank you for your partnership and for modeling Jesus words with your actions.

Sincerely,

Karen Fisher
