

River Network CBPR Grant Program - Apply Now!

River Network is launching the NEW Community-Based Participatory Research Technical Assistance Grants Program. Applications are due Wednesday, October 28th. For more information, click here.

Recipients will receive a $6,500 grant and technical assistance to develop and deploy a CBPR project to address issues related to climate threats and water equity in their communities.

Our goal is to support leaders of community-based organizations, watershed groups, and environmental justice groups who want to initiate a grassroots, ground-up, community-led process to better understand climate- and water-related issues, impacts and threats in their community, and support advocacy efforts to address them.
