

CTV192 presents: Improvisational Comedy for Beginners Workshop!

Contact: Main number
(203) 304-4050

For Release
Jan. 2019

Your Local Channel, CTV-192, invites you to learn about community television through an Improv Comedy Workshop at the New Milford Public Library, February 6th 630-8pm! Improvisational comedy is a fun and often hilarious group activity where – much like community access – no experience is necessary and everything is made up by you!

The CTV192 team will guide participants through five improv exercises, beginning very simply and increasing in challenge. Participants will leave this 1.5 hour event with new friends, confidence in their creativity, and a persistent giggle.

This event is FREE and open to anyone over the age of 15. Teens 15-17 must be accompanied by an adult.

CTV-192 has been providing custom and advanced free training classes in video production for over 20 years. Programs on music, art, politics, news, weather and more can all be found on your local channel and are being produced by members of the local community. Call to find out more! Our next class begins in February: 203 304 4050.

Charter Communications' Spectrum CTV-192 can be seen in the following Western Connecticut towns: Bethlehem, Bridgewater, Brookfield, Kent, Monroe, New Fairfield, New Milford, Newtown, Roxbury, Sherman, Southbury, Trumbull, Washington, and Woodbury. We also stream the channel Live at www.goctv192.com