

“A WILDE EVENING”
GSP SPIRIT PLAYERS SEPTEMBER PLAY READING

The GSP Spirit Players will be continuing its regular First Friday Play Readings via Zoom (of course) on Friday, September 4 from 7 - 8:30 p.m. This month is “A Wilde Evening”, two plays adapted from short stories of Oscar Wilde, “The Happy Prince” and “Lord Savile’s Crime: A Study of Duty”. In the latter - a comedy – Lord Savile is tasked with killing someone close to him in order to gain success but continually is foiled in his efforts. On the other hand, “The Happy Prince” is a bittersweet fable about selflessness.

People who wish to read should RSVP to Nanalee Raphael by the Tuesday of the week of the reading. For September, this will be Sept. 1. Parts will then be assigned prior to the reading, to save time at the beginning of the evening. All are encouraged to attend. Roles may not be available for everyone, but audience members are always welcome. All plays will be suitable for all age persons. Scripts will be emailed to all participants – readers and audience - on the Wednesday before the reading. Below is the information to access the Zoom play readings. Please sign in 10 minutes ahead of time so any technical issues can be addressed before the reading is to begin. Hope to see you there!
