

You're invited to an educational pancake breakfast!

Natural areas and wildlife habitat: BENEFITS & RESOURCES FOR LOCAL MUNICIPALITIES

Please join us for a pancake breakfast starring all-natural maple syrup from trees tapped in the Brodhead watershed!

You'll flip for pancakes – drizzled with rich, delicious, home-grown maple syrup – served up by educator and maple-syrup master Roger Spotts.

THE PROGRAM, focusing on conservation of open space in Monroe County and resources and benefits available to municipalities, will include:

- Christine Dettore of Pennsylvania Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, speaking on grants and funding for Open Space.
- Fallon Horan, Monroe County Planning Commission's Open Space coordinator, discussing Monroe County Open Space, conserved land and return on environment (ROE).
- Paul Wilson, PhD, associate professor of biology at ESU, presenting data on stream ecology benefits in Cherry Valley.
- Roger Spotts, coordinator at Kettle Creek Environmental Education Center, leading hike at the refuge to highlight wildlife features.

AFTER BREAKFAST, please join us for an optional walk-and-talk about how this old golf course is being returned to nature.

WHERE:

Cherry Valley National Wildlife Refuge
Headquarters,
2138 Croasdale Road,
Stroudsburg, Pa.
(GPS 40.973220, -75.173623)

WHEN:

8 a.m. Wednesday,
Feb. 23, 2022

COST: Free!

RESERVE YOUR PLACE by
Feb. 17, 2022: Email info@brodheadwatershed.org or call 570-839-1120.