

School's Out Washington is

NOW RECRUITING BOARD MEMBERS!

School's Out Washington (SOWA) started more than 30 years ago with a focus on strengthening the quality of youth development and childcare programs and has grown to become a statewide advocate, trainer, grant-maker, and system-builder for the field. We are guided by our commitment to racial equity and vision for an expanded learning ecosystem that advances equity for youth in poverty and youth of color.

SOWA is seeking to bring on a few new board members to serve three-year terms. Please email Scott Caldwell, Board President at scottcaldwell47@gmail.com with any questions and to receive the Board Member application.

Joining SOWA's Board of Directors is a unique opportunity to support a growing, dynamic organization making a positive impact in the lives of children and youth across the state. Our Board is helping to shape important policies and practices to ensure the long-term sustainability of the organization and our impact in communities for years to come.

HELP SHAPE SOWA'S FUTURE, ESPECIALLY IF...

- You have experience working in youth development or education;
- You are committed to advancing equity and justice;
- You have prior nonprofit board experience or want to learn about and contribute to the non-profit world.
- You commit to spending 4-6 hours a month on board work: attending board meetings and being an ambassador for SOWA in your community;
- You are a skilled connector ready to introduce SOWA to potential supporters including individuals, youth programs, government agencies, and/or foundations.
