

Central Point Partners (CPP), a 2019, 2018 INC 500 Fastest Growing Company and Best Workplaces honoree, further diversifies portfolio with the acquisition of WBENC staffing competitor, Sympatico Resources.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 23, 2020 – Central Point Partners, a national leader in staffing, IT products and consulting services, announced plans to purchase competitor Sympatico Resources -- expanding the brand's expertise into new industries and promoting overall company growth.

"Sympatico has been a strong player in the insurance and travel sectors for the last 11 years," said Pam Stanczewski, Central Point Partners CEO. "Sympatico Resources area of expertise aligns nicely with one of our current focuses on financial services and is the perfect complement to our growing business. We are excited for the opportunities this acquisition brings, and believe it's a fundamental step in our next phase of growth," Stanczewski first came to know Sympatico Resources president, Nancy Postle, through their affiliation with The Women's Business Enterprise National Council (WBENC), the largest third-party certifier of businesses owned, controlled, and operated by women in the US.

"The last 5 years, CPP has been hyper-focused on building an organization that values inclusivity, diversity, integrity and respect. Our "People First" mindset is an industry differentiator. We are excited to share our unique culture with new verticals and continue fostering the relationships Nancy and her team have built over the last decade."

A staffing leader providing services such as staff augmentation and expertise in information security and big data, CPP has grown from a small-startup in 2012 to a mid-sized national player with over 50 employees. The brand has received numerous awards nationally and locally – a testament to their unique culture, mission, values and focus, and further solidifying their trajectory as a major player.

"Pam and Central Point Partners were the ideal choice when it came to the next step for Sympatico Resources," said Postle. "It was important for me to find a company with the expertise and level of service my customers have come to expect – and beliefs, values, and culture that mimic our own. CPP brings everything Sympatico Resources has been looking for in a partner. I know our customers will be in the best of hands!”

Postle will work with Central Point Partners through the transition but plans to turn the business over solely to the CPP team once the transaction is complete.
