Infectious Disease Screening Solutions

COVID-19 stopped your members in their tracks. Help them get back to work and back to business.

If your members don't have a plan to screen their employees for COVID-19 symptoms to keep the virus out of their organization, then they don't have a plan to return to business. And every day their doors remain closed means less business for them, and less business for you.

They look to you for help. Now you can lend a hand.

It's time for a new category of support: infectious disease screening. CB COVID-19 Compliance screens employees for common symptoms and high-risk indicators to help keep the workplace free of COVID-19. Collect health information, in accordance with relevant federal guidelines, to stop a contagious employee from returning to work and exposing the entire office, and discover the peace of mind from knowing your members are healthy and prepared for the next wave of the virus.
