

ETHICS for TODAY

PRESENTED BY: Diane Diver, LCSW, CAC II, MAC

FRIDAY, JULY 27, 2018 • 8:30AM-4:00PM

WILLINGWAY

311 Jones Mill Rd. Statesboro, GA

8:00AM - SIGN IN

There have been some major changes in the field as we know it. The NASW and NAADAC have recently updated their code of ethics due to the growing use of computers, smart phones, tablets, email, texting, and social media in the field. This open discussion and training will define for you the why professionals need a Code of Ethics, approaches to Ethical Decision Making, and compare the NASW, NAADAC, and ACA Code of Ethics. Key standards will include: practitioner competence, client privacy and confidentiality, informed consent, conflicts of interest, boundaries and dual relationships, and documentation.

OBJECTIVES

- Define the characteristics of a profession
- Discuss why professionals need a Code of Ethics
- Discuss different approaches to ethical Decision Making
- Identify the new changes to the NASW and NAADAC Code of Ethics and how they impact today's practice.
- Discuss the similarities and differences between the NASW, ACA, and NAADAC code of ethics.
- Discuss how to evaluate personal boundaries

6

ETHICS CE HOURS

GACA, UGA School Of Social Work (LPC, LMFT, & Social Work)

ONLINE REGISTRATION

<https://summitbhc.com/events/>

$65

EARLY REGISTRATION

$75

AFTER JULY 13TH

SPONSORED BY:

Contact Janis Ellington for more information
912.678.4480 • jellington@summitbhc.com

