

Eric Sloan
Candidate, Scottsdale City Council

Eric Sloan is a husband, proud father, and small business owner. He and his family have lived in Scottsdale for decades.

Eric is running for the Scottsdale City Council to provide stability at city hall, support our police, keep our streets safe, make our taxes low, protect our property values and open spaces, and support our local business community.

“Public safety in Scottsdale is my number one priority. That is why I am proud to have the endorsement of Maricopa County Sheriff Jerry Sheridan.”

“I believe families and residents have an absolute right to be safe in our homes, in our schools, on our streets, and in our parks. On the City Council, I will insist that our police have the best technology, tools, and training.”

Eric put himself through Arizona State University. In 2008, he met his wife and started his family. That’s when Eric and Alisa started their own family business. Today, their family business is celebrating its 18th year. Eric’s firm works with local and national non-profits on their philanthropy goals.

Eric is a founding member of the Blue Blazers Squadron for Fighter Country Partnership and is honored to be recognized as the first Luke Air Force Base Honorary Commander Chief.
