You'll have so much fun singing, dancing, playing, and laughing that you may not realize how much learning is taking place. We can help your child grow into a confident music-maker while also tapping into all the development benefits music brings. And as you discover fun ways to play with music and rhythms all week long, you'll be supporting your child's music-learning and overall development.

Classes are offered throughout the year, with a new song collection each season. Contact us today and bring the joy of music into your family's life. You are welcome to try a class for free anytime!
