

What is Perq?

Perq is the MBTA's tax-advantaged monthly pass program for companies that want to offer an added benefit to employees that rely on subway, commuter rail, bus, and ferry service for their daily commute.

I used to participate in the Corporate Pass Program. Is this the same thing?

Perq is the new Corporate Pass Program. All aspects of the program that you currently know and enjoy will continue as normal.

How much does it cost? Is there an annual fee associated with joining the program? Is it a subscription?

There is no annual fee or subscription cost associated with Perq. The cost of the program is simply the cost of purchasing Perq cards—which are priced the same as any monthly subway/bus or commuter rail pass, but tax-advantaged for net savings for the employer and the employee. For details on card rates, you can go to mbta.com/perq.

Why should I sign up?

Perq is an easy way to add to your benefits list without increasing your benefits budget. Perq can support your talent retention efforts by helping every employee that relies on public transportation get to and from work. The program also provides a tax benefit for both employers and employees.

What are the benefits of Perq?

The program offers a tax benefit for both employers and employees, and provides a convenient and easy way for employers to add to their benefits list, making it more convenient and cost-effective to offer transit cards to any employee.
