Meeting Authors

Thanks to KCLS
Librarian
Brooke Shoostein the EHS Book Club will be doing a virtual meeting with best selling author Faridah Abike-Iyimide about her hit novel Ace of Spades. This author is only 21 and this is her first novel, a YA thriller about two students at an elite private school. To me the story is Gossip Girl meets Get Out. Local teen librarian for KCLS in Sammamish, Brooke Shoostein arranged for us to meet Abike-Iyimide virtually and also Laini Taylor the author of Strange the Dreamer and the

American Indian Alaska Native Heritage Month

November is American Indian Alaska Native Heritage month. The EHS Library created a display to celebrate the history and contributions of American Indian artists. One of the featured artists is Arigon Starr who is a visual artist, musician, writer, and producer. Her first graphic novel, Super Indian, is a witty and innovative story about a superhero. If anyone frequents any Comic Cons you might run into her! We also featured television shows like Northern Exposure and the new hit show Reservation Dogs by Sterlin Harjo and Taika Waititi.
