Heidi, a Rotarian with San Francisco #2, is an International, award-winning Peace Advocate and founder of Roots of Peace. Roots of Peace transforms war-torn lands into thriving farmlands—planting peace through agriculture for the past 25 years.

To date, Roots of Peace has impacted over 1 million farmers and families, spanning eight countries – Afghanistan, Angola, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Cambodia, Croatia, Iraq, Israel, Palestine and Vietnam. Heidi's work has led successful programs to increase the agricultural exports in Afghanistan from $250 million in 2014 to over $1.5 billion in 2024. Roots of Peace has facilitated the removal of over 100,000 landmines and unexploded bombs, restoring the land for agricultural bounty.

Most recently as a World Food Prize Laureate, Heidi has started another foundation to address food insecurity in our world. The Heidi Kühn Global Peace Foundation works hand-in-hand with Roots of Peace to support food security from Afghanistan, to Vietnam, to our own backyards.
