

Jaco Booyens

Jaco Booyen's mission is to promote life by transforming culture through uplifting entertainment. Jaco is the president and CEO of the film production company, After Eden Pictures. Jaco directed and produced the feature film, 8 DAYS, to raise awareness about the reality of Sex Trafficking in the United States and is the founder of SHAREtogether, a non-profit organization fighting against the global crisis of Sex Trafficking. He is a former professional athlete, a native of South Africa and an American citizen. He is a defender of life and the founder of Jaco Booyens Ministries through which he promotes morality and Christianity as it intersects with life, politics and liberty in the United States and abroad.