CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

JACQUELINE MCCURDY - CHAIRMAN

Dear Members,

Thank you for your continued interest in the arts and artistic events in our community. There are a number of exciting events going on this month, so I'll get right to it.

The third, and final, of our National Art Festivals for the year takes place over the first weekend of the month, March 2nd and 3rd, in Riverside Park along Old 41 Rd. Thanks to the hundreds of volunteers who make this event possible, as these festivals go a long way toward raising the $100,000+ in scholarship money we award to youth for art education. Whether or not you're volunteering, you should go to the festival and take in, (or take home), some of the country's best art.

The Art of the Handbag event is also around the corner, held the evening of March 14 at the Center for the Performing Arts. This social event is just in time to get something new or gently pre-loved to carry you into spring. It's also a great chance to enjoy an evening of fabulous food catered by Atrium Café, enjoy a terrific fashion show, as well as a special guest performance by Saxophonist, Eirinn Abu, phenomenal musician from the Miami Sound Machine. Share the evening with friends and make it an over-the-top evening!

Speaking of social events, the Annual Luncheon follows close on the heels of Art of the Handbag, and this year the entertainment is being provided by new friends of the Centers. Gracie and Lacy are a sister act who started their showbiz careers producing musicals in their driveway. Thankfully, now that they're no longer kids, this award winning duo is willing to travel a bit farther from home to perform, and they'll be regaling us with story, song and dance during our luncheon at Quail West on Wednesday, March 20. If you like what you hear, they'll be performing their "Lady Legends" show in the Hinman Auditorium the very next evening, on Thursday March, 21.

Our Slate of Officers & Directors is in this issue. Watch for your dedicated email providing you with the opportunity to vote. Please vote and help prepare us for next Fiscal Year.

Finally, I'm excited to inform you that CFABS will be hosting our first ever poetry slam on March 30 in the Moe Auditorium. This competitive and exciting event melds the written word with an aspect of performance that has resurrected poetry for a new generation. Tickets and information on performing at the "Southwest Florida Poetry Slam" are available online.

Information on these events, as well as the rest of our programs, is always available at www.artcenterbonita.org.

Best regards,
Jacke

A big THANK YOU!! to everyone who gifted to this Fiscal Year’s Annual Fund Campaign! Thanks to you thousands of people of all ages enjoy art, music, dance, theater and film. Here’s part of a note we received from one of our local families, who, thanks to you, are participating in our programs.

“At dinner this evening we held hands and said grace. We also said thanks for helping us find the Centers. Ann, Tom and Joy are smiling again and I have you to thank for that. We’re still struggling to get everything back in order. it will take time. But what you have done for them is immeasurable. Thank you.”

Your gift transforms thousands of lives—sets them on paths toward brighter futures with theater, art, dance, film and music. Not gifted yet to this year’s Campaign? Or, first time donor? Your gift will be matched dollar for dollar. You’ll make it possible for us to help twice as many people and secure twice as many artistic opportunities. 2019-2020 Slate of officers & Directors

Below is the Centers for the Arts Slate of Officers and Directors, running for office for our next Fiscal Year. February 26 all active Members will be sent an email that includes a copy of the Slate along with instructions to cast your vote. Our 2019-2020 Officers and Directors will take their oath of office at our Annual Volunteer/Donor Recognition Event, with our Presentation held in our Hinman Auditorium Friday, March 29, 2019.

If you do not receive our email and wish to cast a hard copy ballot, please feel free to contact our offices on February 27, so that we can make arrangements for you to stop by one of our offices and cast your vote. Deadline for voting via email or hard copy is March 15.

What is the Annual Volunteer & Donor Recognition Event? A wonderful evening honoring those who have donated their time and/or hard earned dollars to the Centers to help us serve our communities residents and visitors. Great music, delicious food, and best of all, the knowledge that you’ve helped thousands of people across the year gain access to art, music, theater, dance and film. For many, without your help, this would not have been possible for them.

Haven’t volunteered yet this Fiscal Year? There’s still time! Our March National Art Festival is March 2 and 3, a perfect opportunity to volunteer a few hours over this wonderful weekend of art and music, plus secure your invitation to our Annual Volunteer/Donor Recognition Event.
