Ethics and Standards of Conduct (NAR)

December 1, 2021 9:30am-12:30pm Wednesday

Real Estate Education. Simplified.

Understanding your responsibilities to conduct business in the most ethical and professional manner is super important!

No one wants to spend their time at a hearing defending their actions.

Let's get together to help each other understand and utilize the NAR Code of Ethics. You will learn how to turn your daily practice of business into a support engine in the protection of your peers, the consumers, and the community.

Case Studies and examples will be reviewed to enlighten each professional's understanding of the importance of working within an appropriate structure and what can happen when things get ugly.

You are in for a treat as this Excellent Trainer walks you through the World of Ethics. A REAL treat!

NAR Ethics taught.

Kelli Walker is a skilled educator on the topic of Real Estate Ethics (NAR). She is an active Managing Broker that is at the top of her skill in overseeing agents in areas of compliance, Ethics, and quality control.
