August 2017 will mark 30 years since the founding of the Psychoanalytic Center of California Institute.

During the year 2016-2017, five founding faculty members, Training and Supervising Psychoanalysts, will present their experience of:

- 1) Founding PCC in a hostile environment;
- 2) Their roles in the amazing expansion of British Object Relations psychoanalysis; and
- 3) Their generative contributions to British-American Object Relations “psychoanalysis today”.

November 12, 2016, Michael Paul, M.D., F.I.P.A.

February 25, 2017, Avedis Panajian, Ph.D., F.I.P.A.

April 1, 2017, Yvonne Hansen, Ph.D., F.I.P.A.

June 10, 2017, Albert Mason, M.B., B.S., Psy.D., F.I.P.A.

Dr. James Gooch, psychiatrist and psychoanalyst, has been in practice with children and adults in Beverly Hills since the 1960s. His organizational skills made the Psychoanalytic Center of California Society a reality in 1984; the Training Institute began in 1987; the Infant, Child, and Adolescent Psychoanalytic Program (ICAPP) began in 1999. Each year, Dr. Gooch has taught the fundamentals of psychoanalysis at PCC and around the world with a focus on the contributions of Wilfred Bion.

Objectives:

Through his presentation and discussion of the clinical work with a young child with trichotillomania and autistic spectrum disorder presented by Dr. Shirley Gooch, attendees will:

1. Distinguish between the way psychoanalysis was practiced in Los Angeles before and after the founding of PCC;
2. Apply the “container-contained” principle to the analyst’s use of the transference and countertransference;
3. Track the changes involved in the transformation from somatization to mentalization;
4. Utilize emotional attunement to painful states and the self-and-object relationships to improve patient outcomes.

Dr. Shirley Gooch, registered nurse, psychologist, and psychoanalyst, was a founding Clinical Affiliate of PCC. She is a Training and Supervising psychoanalyst in both the adult and child programs, is one of the founders of the both ICAPP and the Infant Observation Program, and is in private practice with children and adults in Beverly Hills.
