

SUMMER HAPPENINGS

Lauren Nicholls spent 7 weeks of her summer participating in the SPARC production of Aida, performed at the Henrico Theater. Lauren was a part of the Egyptian Ensemble and thoroughly loved the music written by Elton John.

Emily Pasquinelli had a blast singing and dancing in Character Works' Master Camp production of Hairspray this summer! She loved being able to perform such fun and lively songs as "Good Morning Baltimore" and "You Can't Stop the Beat"

Sam Robinson

"This summer, I attended the governor's school for performing arts at Radford for a month. While I was there, I learned a ton of new ways to make music and made lots of lifelong friends."

Amelia Walker spent a month this summer at the Governor's Summer Residential School for the Humanities held at Radford University. She made friends with other students from all over the state, took classes from college professors, and attended a wide variety of seminars, concerts and art exhibits.
